

CAN'T PAY, WON'T PAY

The United States is experiencing the beginning stages of the COVID-19 pandemic. Countless industries are implementing mass layoffs and imposing shorter hours on employees, events are being cancelled, and decades-old, locally-owned businesses are closing their doors for good.

If it is our collective responsibility to maintain social distance during this outbreak for our loved ones, friends, and neighbors, then we cannot work. If we cannot work, we cannot pay.

Atlanta and the Georgia court systems are not doing enough by simply suggesting a halt on eviction hearings. Until there is a guarantee of comprehensive eviction moratoriums on residential properties, including a moratorium on eviction filings, we will still be vulnerable if we carry on unorganized.

We have to organize to refuse rents and mortgages for the time being. If we act alone, we will be punished individually with no guarantee against back rent, foreclosures, and penalties down the line.

Find your landlord's other properties. Reach out to your fellow tenants. Work together to draft a letter to send to your rent or mortgage collectors.

Let's organize together against our common problem.

Get connected at:

Telegram: <https://t.me/atlantamutualaid>

FB: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/rentstrikeatl/>

<https://www.housingjusticeleague.org>

Website: atlsurvival.org/housing

Email: atlhousing@protonmail.com

CAN'T PAY, WON'T PAY

The United States is experiencing the beginning stages of the COVID-19 pandemic. Countless industries are implementing mass layoffs and imposing shorter hours on employees, events are being cancelled, and decades-old, locally-owned businesses are closing their doors for good.

If it is our collective responsibility to maintain social distance during this outbreak for our loved ones, friends, and neighbors, then we cannot work. If we cannot work, we cannot pay.

Atlanta and the Georgia court systems are not doing enough by simply suggesting a halt on eviction hearings. Until there is a guarantee of comprehensive eviction moratoriums on residential properties, including a moratorium on eviction filings, we will still be vulnerable if we carry on unorganized.

We have to organize to refuse rents and mortgages for the time being. If we act alone, we will be punished individually with no guarantee against back rent, foreclosures, and penalties down the line.

Find your landlord's other properties. Reach out to your fellow tenants. Work together to draft a letter to send to your rent or mortgage collectors.

Let's organize together against our common problem.

Get connected at:

Telegram: <https://t.me/atlantamutualaid>

FB: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/rentstrikeatl/>

<https://www.housingjusticeleague.org>

Website: atlsurvival.org/housing

Email: atlhousing@protonmail.com